Time Trial Talk

I must have been bonking on a ride when I volunteered to be the new Time Trial Director. Low blood sugar would explain the momentary lapse of reason. What was I thinking? Well, here I am and here it goes. First of all I would like to thank Paul Ashbarry for the fine job he did as TT Director for the past 2 years. He also has been very helpful in giving me advice to get this year started. Christy Saint of course is also deserving of much appreciation from us all as she has been the record keeper for the past few years. There have been other previous TT directors who have given advice and support to me as I begin this adventure. Things will pretty much stay the same for the TT this year, why ruin a good thing? Good course, reasonable rules to keep us safe, and (hopefully) great volunteers helping out each week. There will be one change that we will put in place. Riders who are not members will be asked to sign a waiver and will be allowed 1 free time trial. After the one free ride, times will not be kept for people who show up who are not members of OCC. Why the change? Are you aware that some people have ridden the entire TT season who are not OCC members? You are obviously not one of those people as you are reading our newsletter. It is not only an abuse of our hospitality as a club, but it is a liability. Anyone who wants their times kept and recorded needs to join OCC. As a member of OCC they will be covered by our insurance. The Time Trial can be a dangerous proposition with traffic and the turn around, we want people to be safe and injury free, and covered by insurance should the unexpected happen. The first time trial is May 4, so get your membership dues in early and we'll see you on Caughdenoy.

News From the Mailing and Social Committee

It was on the Wine (Whine) Ride that Bill and Bob asked me to be the "Social Director." My guess is that they asked me because it was obvious that I didn't know a darn thing about cycling, but seemed like a social butterfly. It's a little early to start planning yet, but any feed back about this year's banquet will be helpful in planning for next year. Please Email your comments and suggestions (good or bad) to cbri2@juno.com

Last year, we had a great time partying on Wednesday nights in various people's homes. Anyone who would like to host a get-together after a ride can do it in any way they want. Sometimes the host provided the food, other times everyone brought goodies to share, or it was a combination of both. We are game for anything; all new ideas are welcome. Personally, I am planning a party based the food mentioned in Ben Jonson's poem from the year 1616 (who can bring the partridge and the pheasant?).

The newsletter mailing is just that, anyone who wants to come over, sip wine, and put labels on newsletters, here is your opportunity! See you in March!

Digestive cheese, and fruit
there sure will be;

Leisure Rides

Would you sometimes be interested in riding a little more slowly and in a relaxed atmosphere? Would you like to help new riders approach our sport? Perhaps, you were helped by someone when you were a novice rider. It is time to return the favor. As was done last year, the Club is sponsoring "Leisure Rides". These relaxed rides provide a venue for those who want a slower pace. To make this happen we need ride leaders! I am signing up for one. Now it is your turn.

Sign up for one or more of the rides listed below. Please send the dates you are available to lead one or more of such rides to me (gvcycling@yahoo.com) or Bill Goffe (goffe@oswego.edu). But hurry, because we want to include your name in the ride schedule! Leisure rides are held on Wednesday at the same location and time as the regular ride. The typical distance is about 15 miles over gentle terrain.

Here are the rides for which we need volunteers. The abbreviations in the first column are of the start locations and maps.

Did someone say Velodrome?

Hello cycling friends,
We have an opportunity to promote our sport of cycling this April 24th with the re-opening of the Historic Kissena velodrome. This velo has produced most of the Olympians we know today and hopefully will produce many more.

The day is a major event on the USA Cycling calendar April 24 is the ribbon cutting at around 10:30 AM. No admission. It will continue into the 25th with many celeb's and pro riders. It is in Queens NY-Kissena Boulevard exit on the LIE - turn left on to Kissena Boulevard - right on booth Memorial and another Left on Parsons into the park- drive into the lot and toward the flag.

A flyer will be sent out soon and a formal invite will be sent to you by the Olympic committee. You can go the our web at www.kissena.info for the 'somewhat' latest info. Or contact me directly at Bowerystarz@nyc.rr.com or 212-431-9732. I have a dream of unifying the state and having a major Tour of NY some day. This would be a good start. All my best and keep riding baby.
